Florida: A Brighter Way to Meet

By Lisa Simundson

Sunshine isn't Florida's only attraction—the state's meetings industry dazzles with options. From cosmopolitan convention spaces to magical event venues near world-famous theme parks and a hospitality culture that knows how to impress, Florida delivers exceptional meeting and incentive experiences.

Geography is one of Florida's greatest assets. With 1,350 miles of coastline wrapping from the Atlantic to the Gulf and 20 international airports at your disposal, Florida also delivers unmatched accessibility with extensive transportation network—including dozens of convenient regional and executive airports—putting every coastal destination within effortless reach.

Florida's meetings appeal also continues to grow through ongoing investment. Convention centers are expanding, resorts are refreshing and new venues—both urban and nature-based—are opening across the state, giving planners more flexibility than ever before.

SOUTH FLORIDA

Greater Miami & the Beaches/Greater Fort Lauderdale

Miami's evolution from seaside vacation haven to international business capital is nothing short of spectacular. Long known for its beaches and nightlife, the city now stands as a global center for finance, trade, technology and culture, paired with one of the strongest convention scenes in the country.

The renovated Miami Beach Convention Center anchors the destination with expansive exhibit halls, a new ballroom and flexible meeting space, supported by a growing hotel inventory and a future headquarter hotel—the 800-room Grand Hyatt, due in 2027.

Beyond the convention district, Miami's global dining scene, major sporting events, arts institutions and nightlife provide built-in offsite energy for groups.

New/Renovated Hotels: Andaz Miami Beach; James (South Beach)

Greater Fort Lauderdale

Greater Fort Lauderdale is completing a major transformation with a newly expanded waterfront convention district near the airport. The Broward County Convention Center now offers large contiguous exhibit halls, a signature waterfront ballroom and adaptable meeting space.

The district is supported by its new headquarter hotel—the Omni Fort Lauderdale—improved pedestrian access and enhanced water taxi connections, which is an important feature in a destination known for its extensive system of waterways and canals. With beaches, marinas and a lively dining scene nearby, Fort Lauderdale offers planners a relaxed yet polished coastal alternative.

New/Renovated Hotels: Pier Sixty-Six; Beach House Fort Lauderdale, a Hilton Resort

The Palm Beaches

Stretching from Palm Beach Island to Lake Okeechobee, The Palm Beaches encompass 39 distinct communities blending luxury, culture, natural beauty and adventure. Significant hotel investment and venue development continue to expand the region's meetings capacity, particularly in West Palm Beach and Boca Raton.

Wellness is a defining theme here, with outdoor activities, spa programming and nature-forward experiences integrated into meeting agendas. Cultural attractions, museums and waterfront venues further enhance the destination's appeal for incentives and executive programs.

New/Renovated Hotels: Eau Palm Beach Resort & Spa; The Beach Club at The Boca Raton; The Seagate Resort; West Palm Beach Marriott; The Belgrove & Spa West Palm Beach, Autograph Collection

Martin County

Along Florida's Treasure Coast, Martin County offers a quieter, nature-driven setting ideal for retreats and small to mid-sized meetings. The destination emphasizes ecotourism, waterfront venues and authentic local dining, with easy access to parks, preserves and the biodiverse Indian River Lagoon.

Meeting planners benefit from flexible venues, customized outdoor experiences and a streamlined incentive program designed to support overnight groups.

New/Renovated Hotels: Marriott Hutchinson Island Beach Resort, Golf & Marina

SOUTHWEST FLORIDA

Naples, Marco Island & the Everglades

Florida's Paradise Coast offers exceptional versatility for meetings and incentives. Luxury beachfront resorts, walkable downtowns, cultural venues and Everglades adventures allow planners to tailor programs ranging from high-energy to deeply relaxed.

New and refreshed resorts continue to elevate the destination's luxury profile, while wellness programming and culinary creativity remain central to the attendee experience. Cultural anchors such as Artis—Naples provide refined venues for performances and private events.

New/Renovated Hotels: Naples Beach Club, A Four Seasons Resort; JW Marriott Marco Island—Blue Zone Wellness

Fort Myers, Sanibel & Punta Gorda

Northward along the Gulf Coast, Fort Myers and its neighboring communities balance historic charm with modern meeting infrastructure. Waterfront convention facilities, island resorts and outdoor attractions create memorable group experiences.

Punta Gorda/Englewood Beach stands out for its small-town atmosphere, revitalized event venues and strong destination support. The area appeals to planners seeking uncrowded

Delicious Moments for Groups

When it comes to group dining, the Sunshine State offers everything from Michelin-recognized fine dining and chef-driven restaurants to historic landmarks, waterfront icons and rooftop spaces—many designed with private and semi-private dining rooms, buyout options and experienced event teams. Here are just a few choices:

Columbia Restaurant has multiple locations around the state, including Tampa's Ybor City, St. Augustine and Celebration near Orlando. The original Columbia in Tampa has dozens of dining rooms hosting everything from intimate get-togethers to large reception-style events.

Live! at the Pointe is a premier entertainment district in Orlando, with venues including the new Still Lounge By Dre and Snoop. With multiple private and semi-private spaces that can be booked individually or combined, planners have flexibility for private events of any size or budget for 20 to 2,000 guests.

At Fontainebleau Miami Beach, Prime 54 has introduced the Chef Counter, an intimate 6-seat dining experience set within the restaurant's lively open kitchen. Offered Fridays and Saturdays at 6 p.m., the experience features a specially curated multi-course menu prepared and presented live by the culinary team.

If your group is heading to the Florida Keys, Bagatelle Key West is a stylish restaurant on Duval Street featuring the Treetop Terrace with a private bar and rooftop garden for dining. Downstairs, the Canopy Garden can handle larger groups with a large private bar and an inside dining area.

settings, waterfront activities and a relaxed pace without sacrificing professionalism.

New/Renovated Hotels: Hyatt Regency Coconut Point Resort & Spa; Sundial Beach Resort & Spa

THE FLORIDA KEYS

The Florida Keys offer a true sense of escape—an ideal backdrop for incentives, leadership retreats and CSR-focused programs. Renovated resorts and flexible meeting venues are complemented by immersive marine and conservation experiences.

Groups can incorporate activities such as snorkeling, dolphin encounters, marine science programs and waterfront dining, while improved air service continues to enhance accessibility throughout the island chain.

New/Renovated Hotels: Hawks Cay Resort, Doubletree by Hilton Grand Key Resort Key

CENTRAL FLORIDA
Orlando & Kissimmee

Unmatched in scale and creativity, Greater Orlando remains one of the world's premier meetings destinations. The Orange County Convention Center is embarking on a major expansion that will add significant new meeting and ballroom space, reinforcing its ability to host the largest conventions and citywide events coming to Central Florida.

Beyond the convention center, Orlando's theme parks have expanded their meetings and after-hours event offerings, allowing planners to design immersive experiences that combine entertainment, teambuilding and dining. Major resorts continue to refresh guest rooms and meeting space, while Orlando International Airport is undergoing extensive upgrades to enhance the arrival experience.

Orlando's dining scene has also reached new heights, with widespread MICHELIN recognition and a diverse culinary landscape that reflects the city's global influences. Just minutes from Disney, Kissimmee pairs large-scale convention resorts with outdoor adventures, cultural attractions and an expanding downtown core. New hotel projects and a revitalized airport enhance the destination's appeal for both meetings and extended stays.

New/Renovated Hotels: Walt Disney World Swan and Dolphin; Disney's Grand Floridian Resort & Spa; Caribe Royale Orlando Resort; Kompose Boutique Hotel at Theme Parks; Azure Hotel International; The Inn at Celebration

Polk County, Orlando North & Ocala/Marion County

Minutes from Downtown Orlando, Orlando North Seminole County offers a more low-key, budget-conscious alternative, with scenic rivers, parks and growing sports tourism infrastructure supporting meetings and tournaments alike.

Polk County, located between Orlando and Tampa, blends small-town charm with an accessible meeting infrastructure, anchored by Lakeland's RP Funding Center and a growing inventory of hotels and vacation homes—ideal for regional meetings and sports-related events.

In Ocala/Marion County, equestrian heritage meets large-scale event capability at the World Equestrian Center–Ocala, whose expansive indoor and outdoor venues—including the new Equestrian Manor—support conventions, exhibitions and incentive programs in a uniquely pastoral setting surrounded by springs, forests and horse farms.

New/Renovated Hotels: Downtown Ocala Marriott AC; The Equestrian Hotel

CENTRAL WEST FLORIDA Sarasota & Bradenton

Along the Gulf Coast, the Bradenton Area has emerged as a strong option for small to mid-sized meetings following the expansion of the Bradenton Area Convention Center, whose headquarter hotel, the Palmetto Marriott Resort and Spa, is connected via a climate-controlled corridor.

To the south, Sarasota—known as Florida's Cultural Coast—pairs beaches with world-class arts and dining, offering walkable downtown venues, renowned museums and resort-based meeting space well suited for executive meetings and incentive programs.

Tampa Bay, St. Pete/Clearwater & the Sports Coast

Tampa Bay continues to prove its strength as a major meetings destination, with a waterfront convention center, walkable downtown, luxury hotels and a nationally recognized dining scene. Ongoing hotel development and refreshed properties keep the destination competitive for large-scale conventions and incentives.

Across the bay, St. Pete/Clearwater blends award-winning beaches with a strong arts and culture presence. Refreshed resorts, new dining venues and unique museums make it especially appealing for incentive programs and mid-sized meetings.

Just north of Tampa, Florida's Sports Coast in Pasco County delivers active, experience-driven meetings with easy access

Florida Takes Offsite Out of This World

In Florida, offsite meetings go far beyond the ballroom. Groups can gather in historic homes, renowned museums, major sports venues and the state's world-famous attractions, including the theme parks. Take a look:

Safari Wilderness Ranch—Great for teambuilding and networking, with colleagues as well as giraffes & zebra. Group options at this Lakeland preserve include indoor and outdoor event venues and a variety of safaris styles, from drive-through to camel rides.

NGALA Wildlife Preserve—This private 42-acre tropical wildlife preserve near Naples offers a backdrop of waterfalls, koi ponds and lush landscaping for corporate incentive programs, award dinners and product launches.

Kennedy Space Center Visitor Complex—On Florida's "Space Coast," host your meeting or corporate event surrounded by historic spacecraft, Saturn V rockets and the Space Shuttle Atlantis.

Spring Training Stadium Venues—Florida's "Grapefruit League" of 15 MLB teams play at stadiums welcoming group events and activities. At the Roger Dean Chevrolet Stadium in Jupiter, where the Miami Marlins train, 12 backfields are available for teambuilding tournaments.

Heritage Homes and Museums—From Miami's Vizcaya Museum & Gardens to the Dali Museum in St. Petersburg and the Lightner Museum in St. Augustine, Florida's heritage sites span the state's history and artistic sensibilities.

to Tampa International Airport. The destination is known for creative teambuilding—ranging from kayaking and nature trails to skydiving and ballooning—paired with flexible meeting venues at resorts, colleges and sports campuses. Ongoing investment, including major resort renovations and expanded indoor sports facilities, continues to strengthen the Sports Coast’s appeal for corporate retreats, sports-related meetings and incentive programs seeking energy, space and value.

New/Renovated Hotels: Pendry Tampa; Westin Tampa Bay; Grand Hyatt Tampa Bay; Don CeSar; CW Resort & Marina; The Luce, a Tribute Portfolio Hotel; Saddlebrook Resort

CENTRAL EAST/NORTHEAST FLORIDA
Daytona Beach

Daytona Beach is investing heavily in the meetings market, with major renovations to the Ocean Center Convention Complex and new hotel development. With its beachfront location and community-driven atmosphere, the destination appeals to groups seeking an accessible, less crowded coastal experience.

New/Renovated Hotels: Residence Inn by Marriott Ormond Beach

St. Augustine, South Walton & Jacksonville

St. Augustine offers centuries-old charm and modern meeting amenities, with historic venues, boutique hotels and distinctive offsite experiences creating memorable settings for small meetings and incentives.

South Walton’s sugar-white beaches and preserved natural landscapes support wellness-focused meetings and team connection, while resort-based conference centers provide ample space for larger groups. Jacksonville rounds out North Florida with riverfront convention hotels, the distinctive Prime Osborn Convention Center housed in a former train station and a strong base for association and medical meetings. Outdoor excursions and cultural attractions add depth to group itineraries.

New/Renovated Hotels: AC Hotel St. Augustine by Marriott; Hotel Amalga St. Augustine; Hilton Sandestin Beach Golf Resort & Spa; Hilton Jacksonville at Mayo Clinic

CARIBE ROYALE ORLANDO

In today's meetings landscape, event budgets are under more pressure than ever, yet attendee expectations and sponsor demands continue to rise. The challenge for planners is clear: how to reduce costs without sacrificing the quality, visibility and value sponsors expect. The answer increasingly lies in smarter collaboration and more strategic use of existing assets.

One often under-utilized resource is the hotel partner itself. The right venue can unlock creative, cost-effective sponsorship opportunities that go far beyond traditional ballrooms and exhibit halls. At Caribe Royale Orlando, planners are encouraged to think expansively about how branding and messaging can live throughout the resort and convention center. From arrival moments to high-traffic communal spaces, leveraging the full footprint of the property can dramatically increase sponsor exposure.

This flexibility is not universal.

Many venues operate under strict brand standards that limit sponsorship visibility or confine branding to only the areas exclusively occupied by the meeting. Caribe Royale Orlando takes a different approach. The on-property team works collaboratively with planners to develop customized, sponsor-friendly concepts that align with the event's goals while maximizing visibility across shared and dedicated spaces.

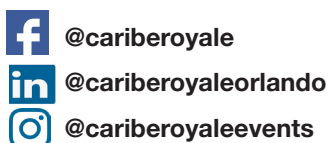

Digital signage is another powerful, cost-effective tool. With digital signage available throughout the Caribe Royale Convention Center, planners can efficiently deploy rotating sponsor messages, tiered recognition and dynamic content, maximizing exposure while often reducing the incremental costs associated with producing, installing and managing multiple static signs.

By partnering closely with a venue that prioritizes creativity and collaboration, meeting planners can deliver high-quality sponsorship experiences that feel premium while keeping budgets in check.

About Caribe Royale Orlando

Caribe Royale Orlando helps meeting planners Color Outside the Lines through close collaboration, adaptable spaces and a creative, solutions-oriented approach. By partnering thoughtfully with planners to explore new ideas and possibilities, the team brings event visions to life, creating engaging, memorable meetings that feel both intentional and distinctive.

Bring the REAL Florida magic to your next event in Polk County.

Centrally located between Orlando and Tampa, Polk County offers an ideal setting for meetings with outdoor adventures, thrilling attractions and scenic beauty. Nowhere else in Florida can you immerse meeting attendees into the cowboy lifestyle on a Corporate Cattle Drive at Westgate River Ranch or turn your "typical" offsite reception into a ride on the wilder side with a private safari experience, followed by a sunset cocktail reception at Safari Wilderness.

Home to more than 7,000 hotel rooms and 7,000+ rental properties in the region, even the largest groups have the fabulous opportunity to meet together under one roof. The area offers more than 100,000 sq. ft. of meeting space with unique venues including a converted 727 airliner that will capture attendees' attention in ways few other destinations can match.

After your conference, attendees can enjoy paddling on 550 lakes, hiking 300+ miles of trails, or playing at Streamsong Golf Resort – the only resort in North America with three golf courses ranked in the "Top 30 Places to Play."

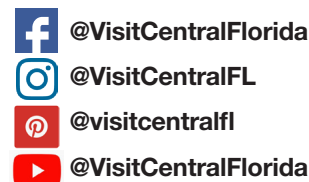

The region also features a variety of locally owned restaurants and cafés to choose from, like the Kitchen Garden at Bok Tower Gardens. As one of the "Top 3 Botanical Gardens in the US," it's an ideal backdrop for a chef inspired reception.

Polk County is where real Florida magic events take place. Contact Visit Central Florida to bring your vision to life.

Florida is more than beaches and theme parks—it's a dynamic, year-round destination designed to inspire and engage attendees. In the heart of Orlando's meetings district, Rosen Centre showcases how the Sunshine State elevates events with creativity, flexibility and unforgettable experiences.

For more than 30 years, Rosen Centre has been a defining landmark along Orlando's convention corridor. Rising 24 stories and offering over 160,000 square feet of high tech meeting space, the hotel blends sophistication with the energy of its surroundings. Repeatedly recognized with prestigious industry awards, Rosen Centre continues to exceed expectations through guest-centric service and a commitment to excellence.

Its imaginative event venues include the 35,000-square-foot Grand Ballroom, the 18,000-square-foot Executive Ballroom and the nearly 15,000-square-foot Junior Ballroom, and close to three dozen state-of-the-art meeting rooms. Outside, 21,000 square feet of event space allows groups to take advantage of Florida's year-round climate, with an Olympic-sized tropical pool providing a picturesque backdrop for receptions and networking events.

Newly designed VIP suites feature modern decor, sleek furnishings and crisp, cool color palettes. Across 1,334 guestrooms and suites, guests enjoy impressive views and the comfort of a property built around thoughtful, award-winning service. A convenient Skywalk connects directly to the Orange County Convention Center.

Rosen Centre's culinary team creates custom menus for groups of all sizes, showcasing beautifully aged prime steak and Florida favorites such as grouper, rock shrimp and crab cakes—cuisine that reflects the region's vibrant flavors and Rosen Centre's dedication to exceptional dining. The Spa at Rosen Centre offers a full-service wellness retreat, complemented by a 24-hour fitness center.

About Rosen Centre

St. Augustine, Ponte Vedra & The Beaches exemplify how local charm and heritage can elevate Florida's group experiences. By weaving together history, nature and tailored hospitality, this region creates immersive opportunities that leave lasting impressions on meeting and event attendees.

Known as the Nation's Oldest City, St. Augustine offers an unparalleled historical backdrop. Venues like the Lightner Museum and the historic Castillo de San Marcos provide not just meeting spaces but transformative environments where corporate retreats and incentive groups can connect through time-traveling tours and storytelling. Meanwhile, Ponte Vedra Beach offers luxury and relaxation with its pristine coastline, world-class golf courses and oceanfront resorts, such as the iconic Ponte Vedra Inn & Club, perfectly suited for blending business and leisure.

Team-building activities here take full advantage of the unique local assets. Whether it's paddleboarding in the Guana Tolomato Matanzas Reserve, engaging in culinary challenges featuring fresh local seafood, or connecting with nature through volunteer opportunities with conservation efforts, every experience reflects the area's vibrant community and natural beauty.

By thoughtfully integrating its rich heritage, stunning landscapes, and customizable offerings, St. Augustine and Ponte Vedra Beach embody Florida's ability to host innovative, locally inspired group events that resonate deeply and inspire collaboration.

About St. Augustine, Ponte Vedra & The Beaches

Host your next meeting in St. Augustine | Ponte Vedra, where stunning venues meet rich history and coastal charm. Orlando, Cvent's No. 1 Top Meeting Destination, offers planners new options throughout the destination as the Orange County Convention Center begins construction on a transformation expansion and Orlando International Airport moves forward with major projects to enhance the travel experience.

The Orange County Convention Center celebrated the groundbreaking of The Grand Concourse Expansion. Set to begin construction in early 2026 and conclude in 2029, the expansion will add 44,000 square feet of meeting space and a 100,000-square-foot ballroom — strengthening the Center's ability to serve larger and more complex events.

The Greater Orlando Aviation Authority (GOAA) has unveiled a new strategic vision to guide the future of Orlando International Airport (MCO) over the next decade. This includes a $5.9 billion investment in projects that will expand capacity, modernize airport facilities and elevate the travel experience.

In close proximity to the OCCC, Universal Epic Universe, is now open offering new meeting options along with the Universal Helios Grand Hotel, a Loews Hotel, and the Universal Stella Nova and Terra Luna Resorts.

In summer 2026, the Walt Disney World Swan and Dolphin will complete a $275 million renovation and expansion project when the property unveils a 120,000-square-foot expansion of the Dolphin's event space.

Orlando's culinary scene continues to gain recognition with 58 MICHELIN Guide restaurants including the destination's first Two Starred venue Sorekara.

With every corner brimming with new experiences, Orlando remains the perfect stage for 'Unbelievably Real' meetings and conventions.

About Orlando

Meetings and events often aim to leave a lasting impression on attendees—but some go further, creating meaningful impact within the communities that host them. Through its Meeting the Moment program, Visit Tampa Bay recognizes and celebrates organizations that give back by lending their time, resources and creativity to strengthen the destination.

The program is rooted in the belief that meetings and conventions are more than gatherings; they are opportunities to create lasting, positive change. Meeting the Moment champions organizations whose events drive transformation across three focus areas: Community Engagement Excellence, Sustainability Champions and Social Impact Advocates. Each recognized group helps ensure Tampa Bay continues to benefit long after the final session concludes.

Participation creates mutual success. Organizations recognized through Meeting the Moment receive valuable visibility across Visit Tampa Bay's marketing channels and select media outlets. This recognition not only amplifies their commitment to giving back but also inspires other groups to incorporate community impact into their own events—reinforcing Visit Tampa Bay's leadership in purpose-driven meetings.

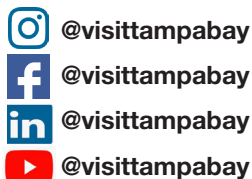

Momentum continues to grow. Since launching in November 2024, Meeting the Moment has recognized 32 organizations for their contributions across community engagement, sustainability and social impact. Collectively, these groups have delivered millions of dollars in economic value while supporting volunteerism, environmental stewardship and equity-focused initiatives.

Organizations interested in learning more about Meeting the Moment, including how to apply to be considered for the program should go to visittampabay.com/meeting-the-moment.

About Tampa Bay

With the debut of The Equestrian Manor, World Equestrian Center—Ocala sets a new benchmark for luxury events in Central Florida. Unveiled at America's largest equestrian facility, this four-story, more than 300,000-square-foot venue was designed with a singular focus: transforming gatherings of all sizes into unforgettable, high-impact experiences.

The Equestrian Manor offers planners unparalleled versatility without compromise. From the iconic Grand Ballroom, featuring cutting-edge technology and highly adaptable configurations, to private meeting rooms and covered balconies with panoramic views, every space is purpose-built to support elevated programming. Beyond the ballroom, an outdoor pavilion creates a striking setting for evening galas and receptions under the stars, extending the event experience seamlessly indoors and out.

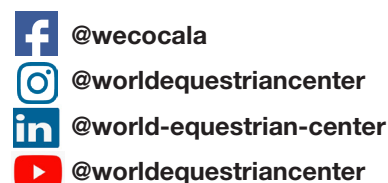

As part of its comprehensive design, The Equestrian Manor also introduces four new dining concepts, including rooftop dining and a second location of the beloved Emma's Patisserie. Guests enjoy a curated culinary journey, ranging from refined American fare to romantic Italian and bold Pan-Asian cuisine, steps from meetings and events. The experience is further enhanced by two on-site hotels, a resort spa and luxury retail offerings at the future Shoppes Off 80th nearby, creating a fully integrated environment for attendees.

World Equestrian Center—Ocala showcases how purpose-built venues like The Equestrian Manor are redefining expectations for Florida meetings, delivering unmatched sophistication and memorable experiences that leave a lasting impression.
